

ABOUT US

Rhein Cosmetic Surgery Solutions, a division of Rhein Medical, Inc., has been developed to address unmet needs in the plastic and reconstructive surgery market. This division specializes in proprietary products designed to accelerate and improve the recovery process for patients undergoing cosmetic surgery. We understand the importance for surgeons to be in more control of post operative surgical results. It begins with our CVD Diamond Scalpels. These are the sharpest scalpels on the market, designed for soft tissue surgery; the sharper the blade, the cleaner the incision, creating better tissue re-approximation and optimal results. These scalpels are reusable and come with a complimentary cleaning system. For more information on the Rhein CVD Diamond Scalpel, please visit our website.

In addition to achieving optimal results, we understand the importance for patients to be as comfortable as possible throughout the recovery process. The post operative healing process is a critical step in the overall success of a cosmetic surgery procedure. Rhein Cosmetic Surgery Solutions is committed to developing products that equip doctors and patients with tools to help facilitate recovery, reduce pain, swelling and bruising, and thus improve post operative surgical results and overall patient satisfaction.

Our latest initiative, the Rhein Recovery Bra, is a specially designed system that combines compression therapy with cold compress therapy for patients undergoing breast surgery. This system helps to ensure that patients have the proper comfort and care throughout the at-home healing process. Rather than searching for all of the components in multiple stores, this product is available as a comprehensive kit, making pre operative preparation and post operative care available in one convenient and affordable system. The Rhein Recovery Bra system is offered to health care providers at 50% off of MSRP. Patients can also purchase this product directly from Rhein Cosmetic Surgery Solutions at full MSRP. Rhein Recovery Bras have been designed with internal pockets to hold Rhein GEL-O's to aid in applying hands-free cold therapy for post surgical recovery. The pockets prevent direct contact with the skin, making cold therapy comfortable and convenient.

Two bras are included in the system to allow patients to step out of a damp bra and into a dry one after each cold therapy session. Adjustable straps allow patients to loosen to fit GEL-O's into pockets, then tighten for desired compression after cold therapy.

It is recommended to step in and out of the Rhein Recovery Bra to avoid reaching overhead. See photos below.

Rhein GEL-O's have been designed to fit into the Rhein Recovery Bra pockets to provide convenient, hands-free cold therapy for post surgical recovery.

Freeze GEL-O's for two hours prior to applying cold therapy. Apply GEL-O's cold therapy in 20 minute intervals, as needed, to reduce swelling, bruising and pain. The central no-cold zone helps prevent cold contact with sensitive area.

It is recommended to insert the GEL-O's into the Rhein Recovery Bra once the bra is in place on the body. Gently adjust GEL-O's and straps for desired comfort. See photos below.
